

Testimonial – Standard Bent Glass

Date: 11/12/2025

Standard Bent Glass recently purchased and installed a Casso-Solar Technologies glass bending furnace and I am pleased to provide this testimonial regarding the quality and performance of the equipment.

Working with a US-based equipment manufacturer was such a positive experience as the communication was excellent. We had continuous support all the way through the process. Casso-Solar made the entire process seamless from order to installation.

From the moment the equipment was delivered we were impressed by how the furnace was clearly designed to be both well-suited for our operation while also being simple and easy to maintain. The onsite engineering and software support made the installation and startup very simple. In the months since delivery, we have found operation of the furnace to be flawless and simple for the team members to operate.

Standard Bent Glass would highly recommend Casso-Solar Technologies for quality, US-made glass bending equipment due to both their technical expertise and excellent customer service. We were so pleased with our purchase that we are currently in the process of purchasing another even larger furnace from Casso-Solar.

Sincerely,
